AFRICAN ARTISANS

INTRODUCTION

Our quest is simplicity, the joy of settling for simple, both in our approach to life and to design. Our designs are slow, meaning they are timeless and each product is formed by hand.

GRATITUDE

In this collection we acknowledge the life inspiration we received through two very magnificent Grand ladies that we recently sadly have had to part with. You showed us the enjoyment and limitless living that will follow us for the rest of our lives. For that we are eternally thankful.

PRODUCTION

This production has come to life through the hands of Teis Bruno photography, Henrik Dahlfelt graphics, the dedicated Byhand crew and all the artisans without whom we would not exist..

THE ISLAND

This year have islandized us all. We have been more parted and had more sea between us than ever before. We were taught to look at the essence of things. The rawness of things, the people around us.

The island collection is born through a yearning for simplicity and slow pace.

This collection honor the memory of Grand ladies in our life. Ladies who showed us how to always look ahead and not to dwell in the past. And who showed us to embrace great leaps and keeping an open mind.

Join us for the adventure of slow living. We can live slow and still keep up the pace. This is our aim. This is our quest.

He thought that he would lie down and think about nothing. Sometimes he could do this. Sometimes he could think about the stars without wondering about them and the ocean without problems and the sunrise without what it would bring.
